

Case Study #1

Mrs Gray is 83 years old. She has savings of less than £10,000. She currently has an income consisting of:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Attendance Allowance	£57.30	£2979.60
Total:	£183.25	£9529.00

Mrs Gray lives in Brook House and pays Rent and Service Charges of £221.43 per week of which the rent (£72.76) and part of the Service Charge (£71.93) is eligible for Housing Benefit. She also pays Council Tax to her Local Authority at Band A.

Because of this, Mrs Gray is entitled to the following:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Attendance Allowance	£57.30	£2979.60
Council Tax Support	£17.59	£914.68
Housing Benefit	£154.23	£8019.96
Pension Credit	£101.35	£5270.20
Total:	£456.42	£23733.84

After paying her housing costs and Council Tax, Mrs Gray will have £205.35 per week left.

Case Study #2

Mr Green is 78 years old. He has savings of less than £10,000. He currently has an income consisting of:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Total:	£125.95	£6549.40

Mr Green lives in Brook House and pays Rent and Service Charges of £221.43 per week of which the rent (£74.94) and part of the Service Charge (£79.29) is eligible for Housing Benefit. He also pays Council Tax to his Local Authority at Band A.

Because of this, Mr Green is entitled to the following:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Council Tax Support	£17.59	£914.68
Housing Benefit	£154.23	£8019.96
Pension Credit	£37.05	£1926.60
Total:	£334.82	£17410.64

After paying his housing costs and Council Tax, Mr Green will have £95.80 per week left.

Case Study #3

Mrs Brown is 87 years old. She has savings of less than £10,000. She currently has an income consisting of:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Occupational Pension	£25.00	£1300.00
Total:	£150.95	£7849.40

Mrs Brown lives in Brook House and pays Rent and Service Charges of £221.43 per week of which the rent (£72.76) and part of the Service Charge (£71.93) is eligible for Housing Benefit. She also pays Council Tax to her Local Authority at Band A.

Because of this, Mrs Brown is entitled to the following:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Pension Credit	£18.21	£946.92
Council Tax Support	£17.59	£914.68
Housing Benefit	£154.23	£8019.96
Occupational Pension	£25.00	£1300.00
Total:	£340.98	£17730.96

After paying her housing costs and Council Tax, Mrs Brown will have £101.96 per week left.

Case Study #4

Mr Oakover is 87 years old. He has savings of £14,000. He currently has an income consisting of:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Occupational Pension	£95.00	£4940.00
Total:	£210.95	£11489.40

Mr Oakover lives in Brook House and pays Rent and Service Charges of £221.43 per week of which the rent (£74.94) and part of the Service Charge (£79.29) is eligible for Housing Benefit. He also pays Council Tax to her Local Authority at Band A.

Because of this, Mr Oakover is entitled to the following:

	Weekly	Yearly
Full State Pension	£125.95	£6549.40
Council Tax Support	£7.08	£368.16
Housing Benefit	£120.07	£6243.64
Occupational Pension	£95.00	£4940.00
Total:	£348.10	£18101.20

After paying his housing costs and Council Tax, Mr Oakover will have £90.85 per week left. He will still have his savings of £14,000 and if this decreases his Housing Benefit and Council Tax Support will go up.

Case Study #5

Mrs Black is 84 years old. She has savings of less than £10,000. She currently has an income consisting of:

	Weekly	Yearly
Part State Pension	£86.25	£4485.00
Total:	£86.25	£4485.00

Mrs Black lives in Brook House and pays Rent and Service Charges of £221.43 per week of which the rent (£74.94) and part of the Service Charge (£79.29) is eligible for Housing Benefit. She also pays Council Tax to her Local Authority at Band A.

Recently Mrs Black has been finding it harder to get about due to the onset of osteoporosis and other ailments that she has.

Because of this, Mrs Black may be entitled to the following:

	Weekly	Yearly
Part State Pension	£86.25	£4485.00
Pension Credit	£141.05	£7334.60
Council Tax Support	£17.59	£914.68
Housing Benefit	£154.23	£8019.96
Attendance Allowance	£57.30	£2979.60
Total:	£456.42	£23733.84

After paying her housing costs and Council Tax, Mrs Black will have £217.40 per week left.